Ernie Davidson, Vice Principal

Superintendent, Mr. Jewell discussing future plans with Chairman of the Board, Mr. Hollern.

In his fourth year of heading Bend Senior High's administration is Principal Donald Brown. Mr. Brown is greatly concerned with student-faculty relationships and seeing that everything is in smooth working order. Although he has entire responsibility and final say on the whole operation, he has three assistants.

Zola McDougal, Assistant Principal, and Ernie Davidson, Vice Principal, help to coordinate and supervise the administration. Ben Gehlen, Dean of Boys, is in charge of students' discipline.

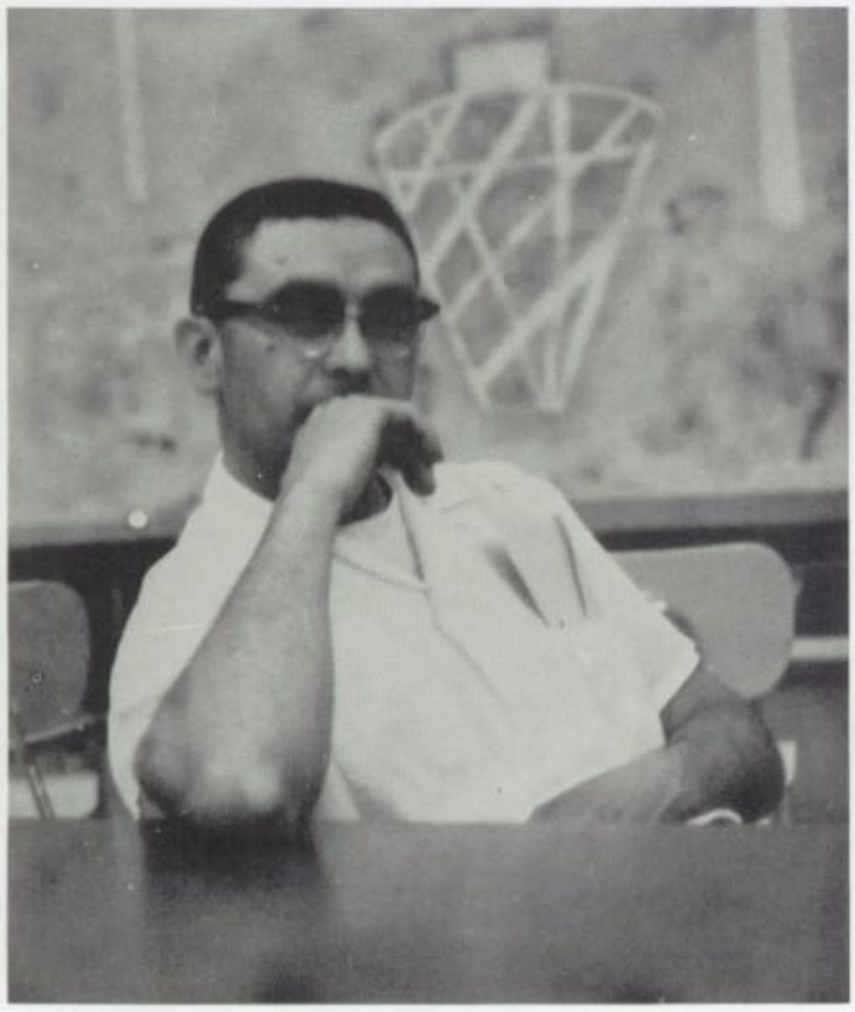
FOREIGN LANGUAGE



Senior Lopez-Spanish

Herr Lange-German

Frau Johnson-German Secretary

The goals of the Bend Senior High language department were to make the student aware of the customs and culture inherent in the language he was studying.

With these goals in mind, and excellent staff and facilities available, the language department taught many students the importance of a second language. Last summer several of the students were able to put this second language to use when they traveled to Germany to study at Salzburg University.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Mrs. Maddox-Modern Problems

Social Science is the most widely studied area in the Bend Senior High curriculum. This mainly being because Modern Problems is required by all seniors, and because Family Relations falls in this category.

Both classes are very relevant to modern-day living. They teach the student to better understand today's problems and how to cope with them.

The Art curriculum is varied in scope. It is a very popular course in our school. Mr. Temple does an excellent job of teaching the students the basics of art, and then lets them go to do what each wants.

Many of the students won state honors for their artwork. An art show was held at the end of the year, selling students' work. This was a big success for them.

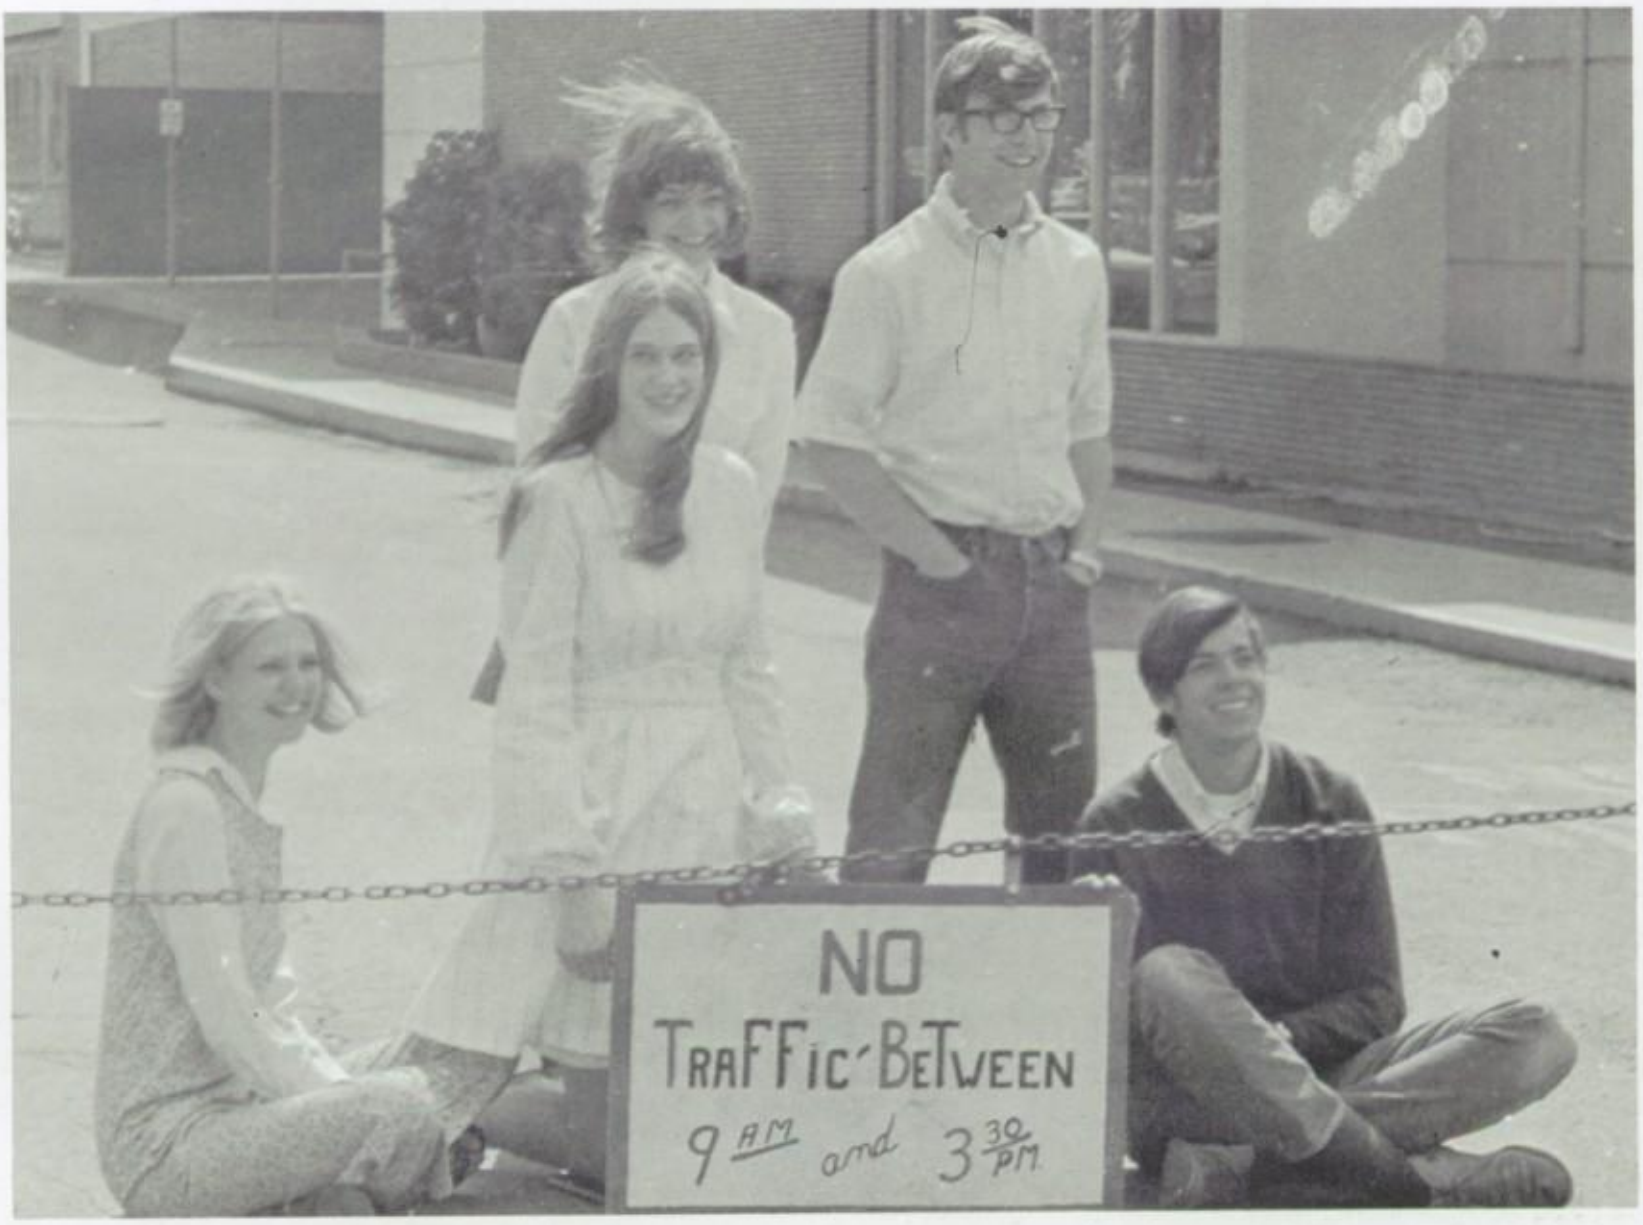
CLASS OF '71

Peggy Sawyer, Evelyn Sandoz, Ann Harpole, Jeff Maudlin, David Lansing

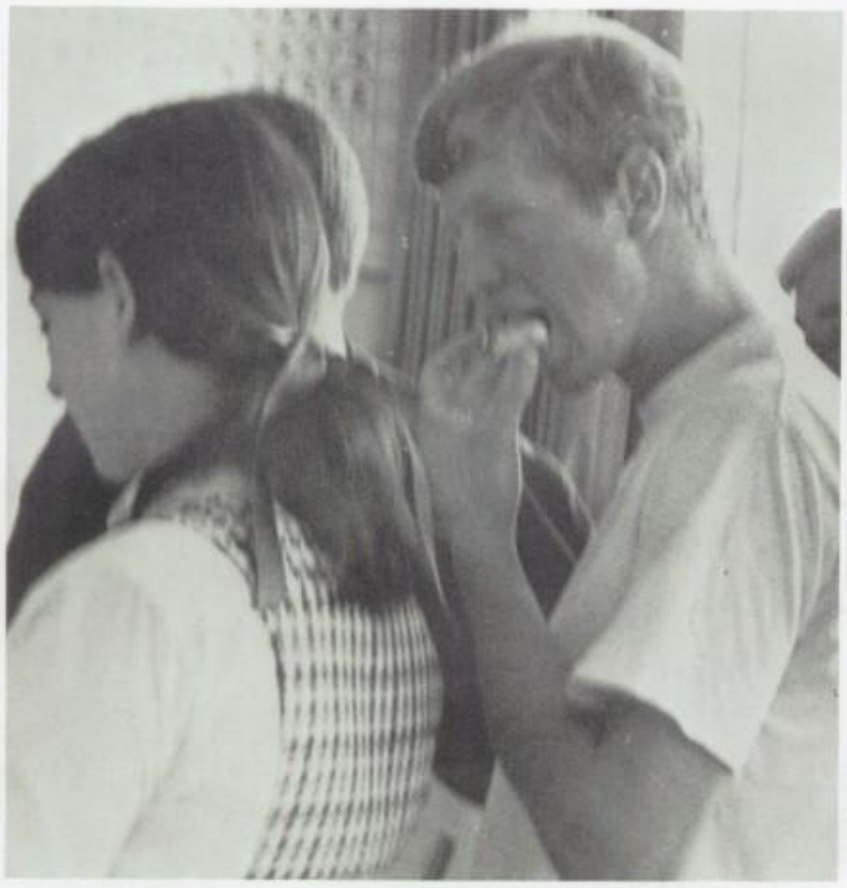


This year's Junior class is notorious for being independent. This independence once again caused many repercussions with the advisors. The Junior class was a strong competitor for Spirit Week honors and went on to win spirit day. The climax of Spirit Week was the assembly where the show stopper was the junior class skit.

The next project the juniors tackled was Homecoming. After many nights of hard work the junior Homecoming float was justifiably awarded first prize.

The Junior class worked many long hours to present a Junior-Senior Prom that would be unforgettable. The setting at Sunriver was highlighted by the theme of Romeo and Juliet.

The Class of '71 proved itself to be reliable and enthusiastic to overcome the setbacks of being independent. The juniors learned to work together and to pool their ideas to come out on top.



A typical moment for Rod Carpenter.

Football, working, hoping, and cheering together. The players were always striving for the gain of a yard, the conversion that could decide between victory or defeat.

Those sidelined, experienced the anxiety of wanting to compete although prohibited by injuries. While plays are created and executed in the minds of the injured, a great concern for the other players is aroused.

Although many times leaving the game a little disappointed and a little cold, spectators were well rewarded with action and thrills that resulted from strategic plays.

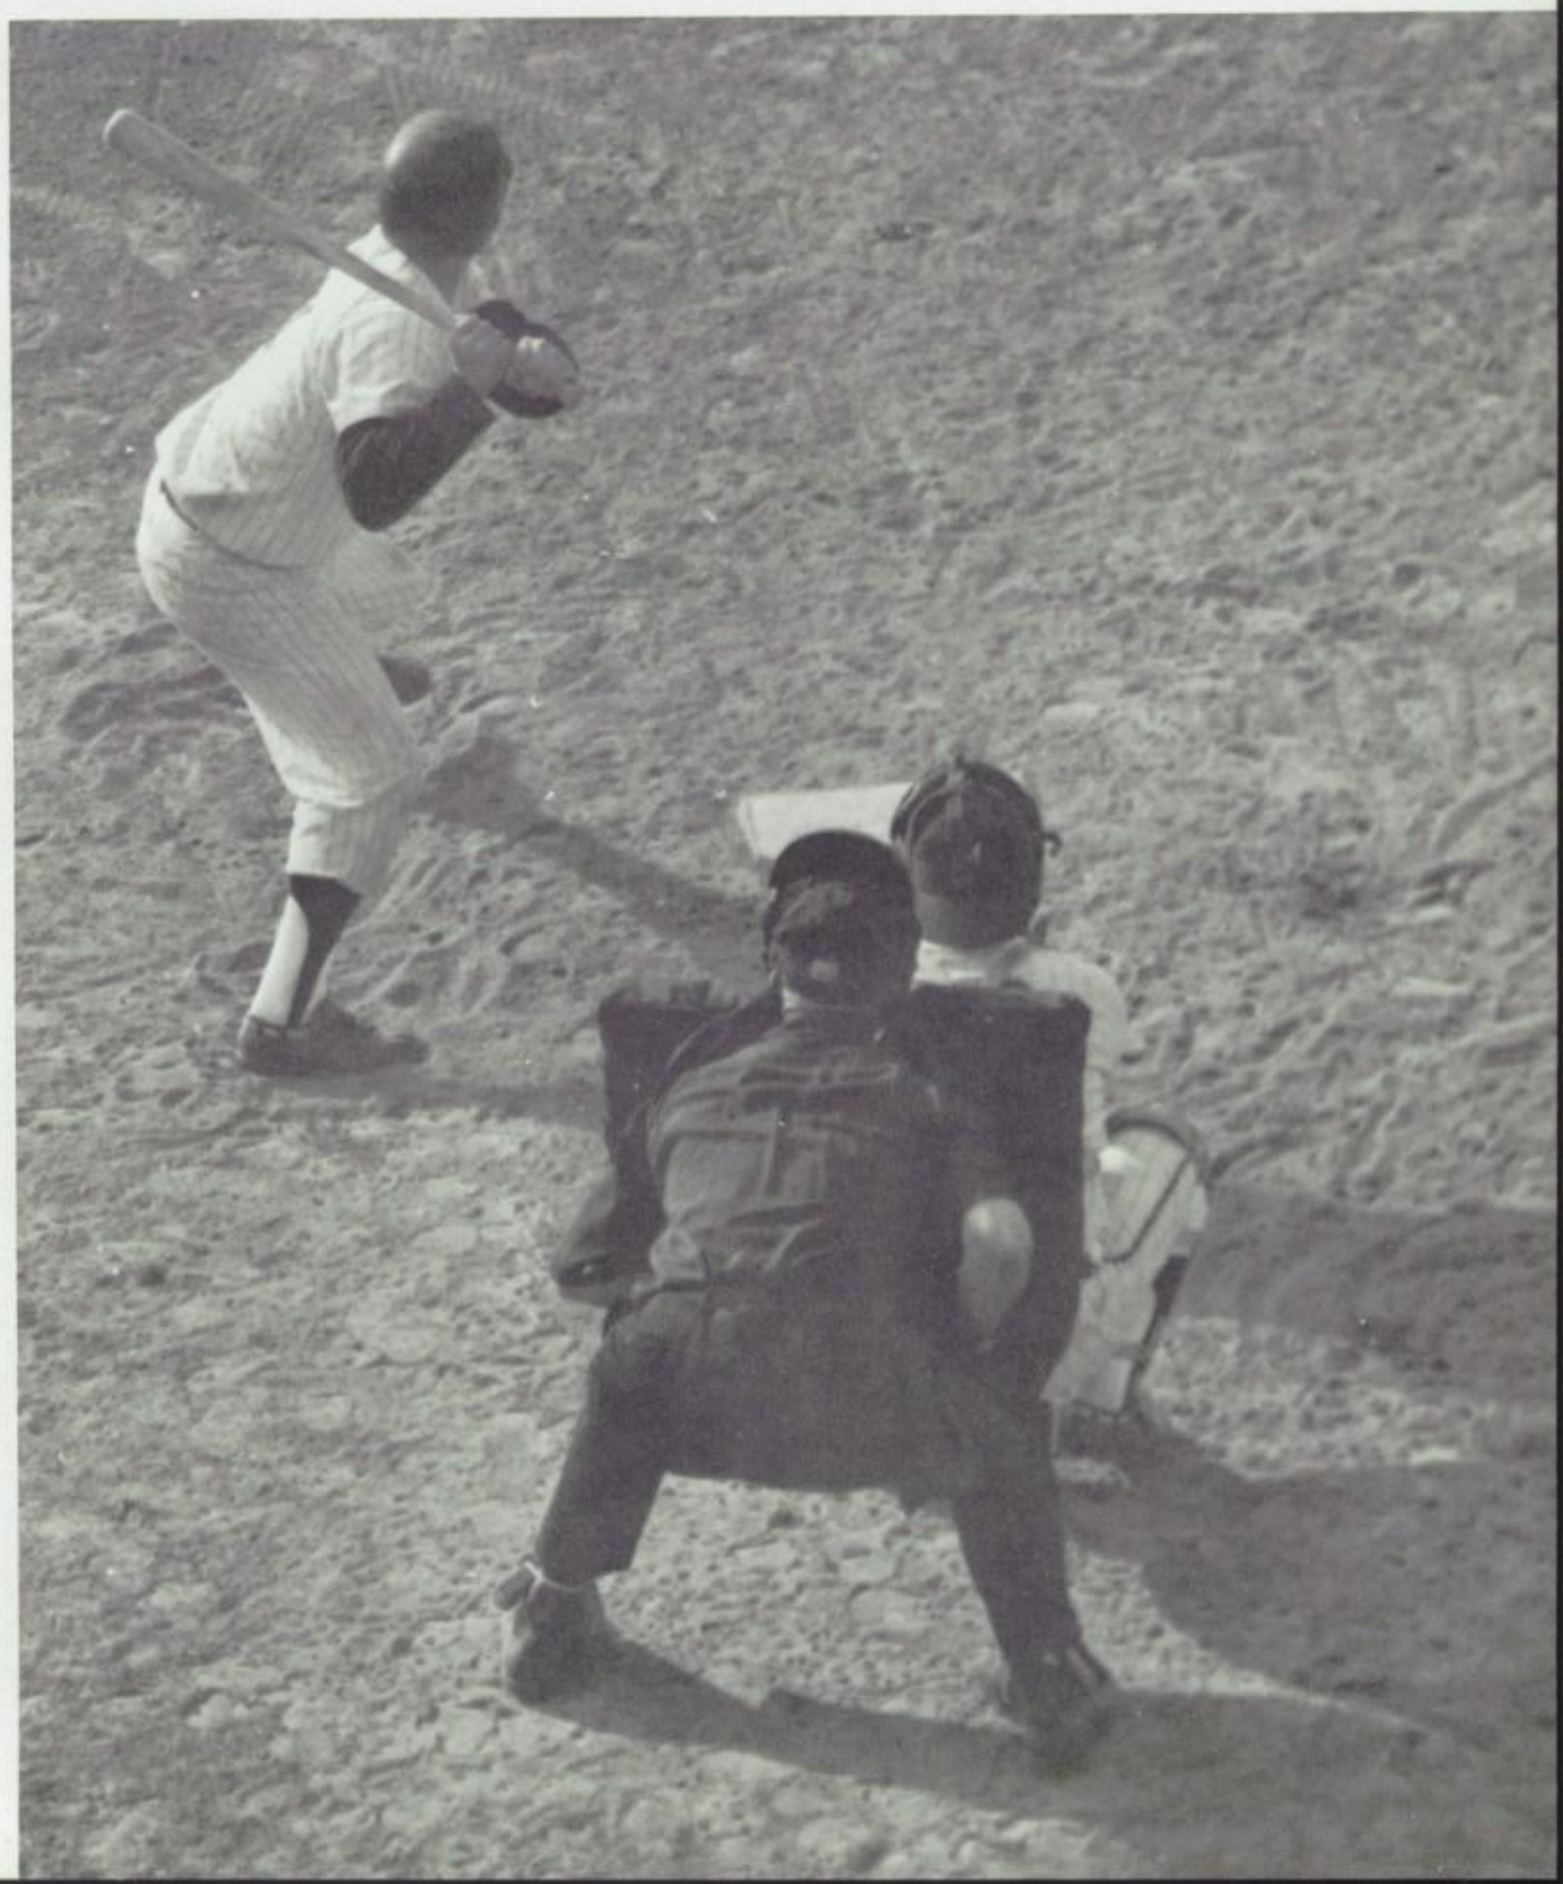
BASEBALL



BASEBALL 1970

Despite a few injuries this year, the baseball team did exceedingly well. The team made it to the District playoffs, which were held here in Bend and were barely defeated by Pendleton.

Under the guidance of Coaches Dan Miles and Mr. Conolly, Bend had a very successful season.

Fast fielding and strong hitting were valuable assets this year as the Varsity prospects displayed team unity and spirit.

TENNIS

This year's tennis team sent the doubles team Cleone Bingham and Marci Aplin to Ontario for the District play-offs. Maury Douglass and Tony Arbow also went to District as a doubles team. Cleone and Marci travelled to State, which was held in Corvallis.

The tennis team was a devoted team. Practice was held each night after school and every member attended these practices.

The five members of the rally squad initiated their efforts to bolster spirit in spite of the very apathetic crowds at games and assemblies. Although spirit of the audience just wasn't there, these five girls tried their hardest to urge the struggling teams on to victory.

The Varsity Rally spent one week at Lewis and Clark College learning many new yells and routines, which they presented to the student body. Their efforts brought home a first place trophy and many blue ribbons.

The Bend Drill Team salutes the 1970 student body

The Drill Team rounds them up again.

The 1970 Drill Team had a year full of experiences. They started the year with the annual Junior Rose Festival, taking First Place. They then proceeded on to a summer of work at the concession stand in the Municipal Ball Park, managing it all on their own. This was a great success. The Drill Team fought on into the year, practicing routines, performing at gatherings, and working for various organizations.

They traveled to Corvallis and Boise; competing, but not taking home any honors. It was a year of hard work and defeat. There were many times of discord among the members, through excess of leadership, and lack of true followers, but each girl learned a little more the importance of getting along with one another, and the hard work involved in it. This, in itself, was an accomplishment, making the 1970 Drill Team a profitable experience.

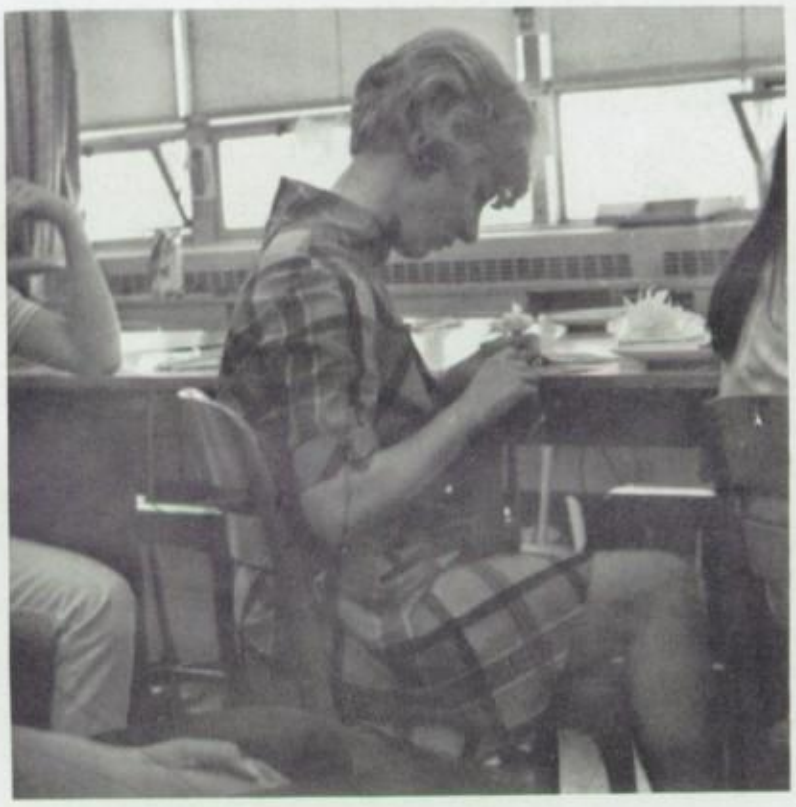
PEP CLUB



The Pep Club, a club to organize spirit for BSHS at sports functions, worked hard to do this. Although small in number, the girls attended the games in uniform to join the rest of the student body in cheering. They also set the tables and decorated for all the sports banquets this year.

Under the leadership of Carol Reinhart, Pam Weaver, Marilyn Stephens, and the absense of Val Tomseth, the 1970 Pep Club had a year to remember.

This year the Lettermen's Club was chosen the club of the year. Through the efforts of the President Jess Hubbs the club has performed many services for the good of the school and community. Some of their activities included erecting and decorating a Christmas tree on top of the school building, helping to put lights on Bruin Field and promoting a clean-up campaign in the Bend area. This year the Lettermen's club was brought back to life and strengthened to continue on as a fine club.

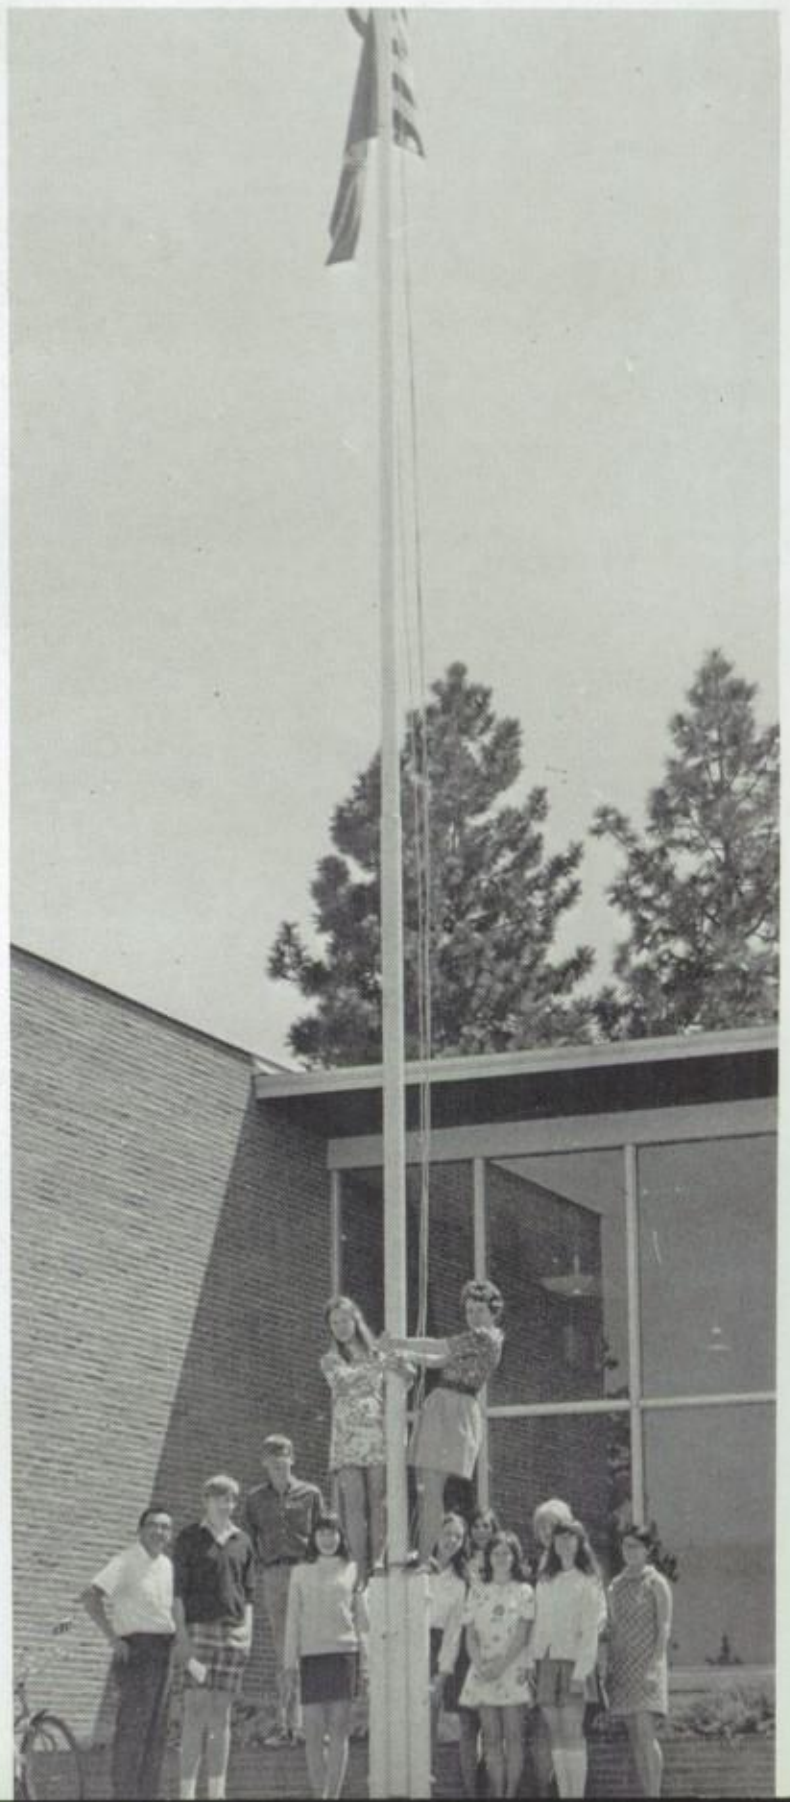
Spanish Club officers: Sue Tudor, Chris Lohman, Patty Gross.

SPANISH CLUB

Much of the activity of the club has been devoted toward earning money to send Spanish students from many countries in Oregon to Mexico.

Activities such as bottle drives, handling the concessions for wrestling tournaments, and sponsoring a Spanish Club party are just a few of the successful projects the Spanish Club was engaged in.

Although the Spanish Club still has had little recognition at Bend Senior High, the Spanish students realize they are receiving firsthand experience in International living.



STUDENTS FOR PEACE

Students for Peace was another new club in our school. Working in conjunction with C.O.C.C.'s Omega Club, Students for Peace worked in community projects and marched for various causes throughout the year.

SPECIAL-ED

Special Education got a new room. They moved to the new addition built onto B building. The student profited greatly through Mr. Anttonen's efforts, many of them obtaining part-time jobs in the community.

CADET TEACHING

This year Cadet Teaching was in strongest force. Every teaching opening was filled all year long. It is through the great efforts of Mr. Anderson that so many students were able to practice teach, and learn more about the profession.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Judy Backstrom, President; Debbie Crieghton, Vice President; Mary Ann Joanis, Secretary.

Girls' League got off to a great start this year with the annual Big-Little sister party, which was a worthwhile endeavor because it acquainted the senior girls with the sophomore girls.

New policies and rules were introduced into the traditional Sadie Hawkins event this year. It was a successful dance and many a good time was spent.

During the course of the year the traditional characters, sweeties, individual, and girls' of the month were elected and honored at the assemblies held.

It is hoped that next year's Girls' League will be prosperous in carrying out the duties it holds and in forming a more united system of girls to make Bend High an enthusiastic spirited institution.

This year Jim Adkisson was chosen to attend the State DECCA convention in Missouri. Jim showed outstanding abilities throughout the year, enabling him to achieve this great honor.

This was DECCA's first year at B.S.H.S., and although small in number, they did a fine job. Through the efforts of the club's work, DECCA has a promising future.

Key Club officers: John Fox, Brad Fancher, Steve Maker, and Wes Hare.

The Key Club, a branch of the Kiwanis, is mainly a service club.

This year the officers attended a state-wide convention in Corvallis.

THESPIANS

The Bend Senior High Thespian Troupe No. 790 saw a busy and productive school year. It began before classes in the fall with our production of "Fear in the Forest or Sarsaparilla Saves the Day," a musical melodrama originally produced at the Camp Sherman Community Hall and later revived for the Sisters PTA and at Pilot Butte Junior High.

Our fall production was Thornton Wilder's THE SKIN of OUR TEETH, a difficult production which proved to be a rewarding experience for all those involved.

The major musical production was THE WIZARD OF OZ that delighted both children and adults in the community.

Troupe No. 790 hosted over 500 delegates at the largest State Thespian Convention in Oregon's history.

Seven students from our troupe were selected to represent Oregon at the International Theater Arts Conference in Bloomington, Indiana. To raise money to help finance their trip to Indiana, the Thespians sponsored their final project of the year. The Roaring Twenties Review featured faculty members and students co-operating in a wild evening of variety and entertainment.

The Thespians theme this year was "Oregon Thespians On the Move" and the year found Bend Thespians in the lead!

HONOR SOCIETY

The 1970 Honor Society had one of the largest memberships of all time. They initiated one of the largest numbers of Sophomores into their club at the end of the first semester.

After a year of activities, including producing and promoting a play, they made their annual trip to Portland to finish off the year.

ELECTIONS

This year's student body elections were highly spirited. The three traditional parties; The Pusher Party, headed by Veronica Ramsey and Kevin Domby, The Farkle Party, headed by Steve McClain and Cindy Burgess, The Independent Party, headed by Jess Hubbs and Darla Wood, offered a wide variety of students. The student body voiced their final opinion. The results were: David Lansing, Pres., Alan Temple, V.P., Norma Kirbs, Sec., Terry Bennett, Treas., Tim French, 2nd V.P.

SENIORS GIVE PREVIEW OF FUTURE

The Senior Banquet proved to be somewhat of a comedy to the seniors, but to next years seniors, a banquet of this type will be just a memory.

Cigarettes and cigars were casually smoked by the majority of the class. Debbie Creighton and Bruce Westfall presented the personality awards as voted on by the Senior Class. The talent for the banquet was made possible by the choir and a solo by Deb Mosher. To end the banquet, a skit was produced by Veronica Ramsay, Jackie Ward, Darla Wood, Carolyn Cooley, Pam Stroud, and Cleone Bingham. A few laughs were produced by this skit.

ENSEMBLE

These two groups were seen and heard throughout the year. They presented their songs at assemblies, talent show, service clubs, and the annual spring and winter concerts. The audiences were spellbound by their tremendous voices. Many members of both the ensemble and choir participated in state competition and did very fine.

Mr. Cooper once said, "You sometimes have to color the truth." This is exactly what the 1970 yearbook is all about.

Through the efforts of a very small yearbook staff, however, it did get published.

No matter how poor the yearbook may seem to some people, it is a definite improvement over last year's yearbook.

THANKS MR. BUTCHER FOR YOUR ASSISTANCE TO THE YEARBOOK STAFF.
